LOCAL ELECTION OFFICIALS SWAMPED WITH RECORD VOTE

As Washington Township goes—so goes the state!

Tuesday's primary election here in the township set at least two new records for primary elections. The heaviest vote ever recorded at a primary election was noted at most precincts and the election officials set a new record for loss of sleep, spending until almost daylight counting the ballots.

The only local candidates, Judge Allen G. Norris, Centerville, and Judge E. A. Quaresma of Niles, were both elected to new terms without opposition.

Although no official tabulations are as yet available, unofficial returns revealed that Governor Earl Warren carried this area over his nearest opponent, James Roosevelt. Welburn Maycock, candidate on the Democratic ticket and the only candidate not cross-filed, polled only a token vote here.

ALL BUT 3 PRECINCTS IN

In the total votes for Alameda County, with 1,605 of the 1,608 reported late yesterday, Warren far outdistanced Roosevelt on the Republican ticket but Roosevelt had a near 2 to 1 lead in the Democrat ballot.

Warren's Republican vote was 85,394 against Roosevelt's 12,340. On the Democratic ticket Roosevelt led with 76,451 against Warren's 47,142.

With but so few votes remaining to be counted it was definitely established that the two men would oppose each other at the general election in November.

In county races Incumbent Frank Coakley was an easy winner, as was Sheriff Gleason and Coroner Emerson. Russell C. Horstmann outdistanced his two opponents for County Assessor and Fitzsimmons scored a 3 to 1 win over Duffy for Recorder.

INCUMBENTS WIN

James G. Quinn and Chris B. Fox were successful candidates for election to Superior Courts No. 1 and 5.

Francis Dunn Jr. carried both tickets to sweep the race for Assemblyman for the 13th District. Another two-ticket winner was George P. Miller, congressman from the 6th District.

Arthur H. Breed Jr., unopposed on the Republican ticket, won easily over his other Democratic opponent, Fauntleroy.

73-PASSENGER BUS SOUGHT BY SCHOOL

The Board of Trustees of Washington Union High School this week announced their intention to add a new 73-passenger bus to the fleet of school buses now used to transport students to the high school from all of the communities of the township.

J. V. Gould, district superintendent, said yesterday that the larger bus is needed because of the increasing number of students that must be furnished transportation.

DOGS BEST FRIEND

For months 13-year-old Craig Bellati of Morrison Avenue, Niles, has been followed by a wake of dogs as he bikes down the road every evening on his paper route. That's been all right with him. He likes dogs. And he likes dogs to like him.

But the liking that the dogs have for him is becoming a little too aggressive for comfort. The dogs are not content now with a friendly lick. The other evening a dog sneaked up and bit him. Craig was a trifle disillusioned with dogs. He was even more disillusioned the next day, when he was down on the main street of Niles, and another dog sneaked up and bit him!

Now, in addition to being black and blue from bites, the young paper boy is beginning to wonder—do the dogs that follow him on his route every evening really like him, or are they just looking forward to a good meal?

HIGH WINDS CAUSE HEAVY DAMAGE TO FRUIT CROPS HERE

The weather put on a show here this week that became the chief topic of conversation but failed to win the praise of any of the critics.

Shifting from last week's premature summer heat, which set several temperature records, the elements this week featured abnormally chilly weather and high winds.

High winds throughout the entire day Tuesday, with gusts reaching a velocity of more than 40 miles per hour, cloaked this area with a thick layer of dust and resulted in thousands of dollars in damage to crops.

Agriculturists reported heavy damage to cherries, now at harvest peak. The apricot and nut yields will also be greatly reduced by the winds, with a high percentage of the crop blown off the trees.

No extensive property damage was reported, although many trees were blown over and radio and television antennas were damaged.

A storm blowing in from the north deposited a blanket of snow on the mountain peaks above the 4,000 foot level, resulting in a cooling off of this vicinity with the mercury dipping into the low 50's in the early morning hours.

GOLF CLUB PLANS STYMIED BY TAX

The proposed construction of a Hayward Area Golf and Country Club, near Decoto, has been stymied by the announcement that stockholders must each pay $60 amusement tax.

V. A. Hale, club president, announced this week that approximately 50 per cent of the membership expressed a desire for refund of their dues rather than pay the $60, either from the fund or from additional assessments.

In a letter to members he stated, "At this late date we are informed that all proceeds from sales of golf club memberships are subject to a 20 per cent amusement tax, and that if we apply for release of funds now in escrow, each individual member is then liable for this tax, which would be $60."

The present corporation holds a lease on 116 acres of property on Niles Road, bordering Valle Vista Road, on which preliminary grading has already been done and the first nine holes of the course laid out. The lease is paid up until November 1 of this year.

Several local golfers had purchased stock in the corporation.

$264 IN CASH STOLEN AT HIDDEN VALLEY RANCH

The theft of $264 in cash was reported to local deputy sheriffs Monday by Harry Yip, operator of the restaurant at Hidden Valley Dude Ranch.

Yip told officers that the money was taken from his living quarters at the ranch sometime Sunday.

HOSPITAL DISTRICT RESUBMITS REQUEST FOR FINANCIAL AID

The Washington Township Hospital District's original application for federal and state aid was brought more up to date this week with a new report submitted by the Board of Directors.

The supplement to the original application was made at the suggestion of John Derry, assistant chief of the Bureau of Hospitals, State of California Department of Public Health. Mr. Derry recently visited the township and was taken on a tour of this area by the directors. At that time he suggested that the state be furnished with facts showing the growth here during the past year and the present hospital need.

POPULATION INCREASE

The new supplement will become a part of the original application submitted in July of 1948 and the Confidential Report to the Health Department presented to its Advisory Council on May 19, 1949.

In its new survey the district increased its estimated township population from 20,000 to 22,750 persons and expressed belief that during the next 12 months the population will increase by about 4,500 persons.

The new report points out that although the Washington Township Hospital District covers 158 square miles of area, only a small portion of the total is inhabited. Much of the district's area is covered by the waters of San Francisco Bay or by flooded tide marshes. Another large portion is so mountainous as to be suitable only as grazing land.

Because of the limited amount of suitable land, 90 per cent of the district's population is concentrated in a section about 20 to 25 square miles. This 90 per cent of the population live within a radius of five miles of Centerville.

MUST HAVE ASSISTANCE

The net assessed valuation of the district was $17,383,375 in 1940-41 but has risen to $26,710,205, according to the new report, giving the district a tax potential of sufficient size to assure the sound operation of a 50-bed hospital.

The report concluded with an outline of the dire need of hospital facilities in this area with the statement, "The Washington Township Hospital District is ready and willing to do all that it can to lessen the need but outside financial assistance is a necessity. The district therefore respectfully requests the State of California Department of Public Health and its advisory council to allocate a portion of the Federal-State fund this fiscal year in order that the 50-bed hospital shown so conclusively to be needed may be built." The report was signed by L. S. Whitaker, president of the local hospital district board.

BUILDING PERMITS TAKE BIG JUMP

Building permits issued in Alameda County during May exceeded by more than one million dollars in estimated valuation the permits issued the previous month, according to Marcus S. Carlson, building official.

Carlson revealed that during the past month his office issued 585 building permits for the construction of buildings with an estimated valuation of $3,465,025.

Single family dwellings led the list with 420 permits issued on an estimated $2,926,250 valuation. Next in line were 9 duplex dwellings with a valuation of $188,600, and nine commercial buildings with a valuation of $132,350.

RUEBEN VARGAS HURT IN FREAK ACCIDENT

Rueben Vargas, 125 Joseph Street, Centerville, was painfully injured last Saturday in a freak accident while working in a garden at 175 Pine Street in Centerville.

The young man lost his balance and fell and a section of a broken hoe handle became embedded in his hip. He was taken to Fairmont Hospital in the Dallas Paul ambulance.

CANCER FUND DRIVE OVER $600 QUOTA

The fund raising campaign conducted here last month for the American Cancer Society has far exceeded its quota with still some contributions to be reported, according to Jack Parry, Niles, campaign chairman.

Parry reported this week that he now has $925, and expects the total to exceed the $1,000 mark when all workers have reported. The quota for the township was $600.

Parry praised the fine spirit and tireless effort of the community chairmen and other volunteer workers who assisted in making the campaign so successful.

CHAMBER ASKS IF SEWAGE WATER FIT FOR IRRIGATION

Inquiry concerning use for irrigation of run-off water from sewage treatment plants of Washington Township is being made by the Niles Chamber of Commerce as a result of Tuesday's meeting.

Clifford Dennis, local manager of the Citizens Utilities Company, stated that effluent of proposed sewer plants of the Union Sanitary District and the new Decoto subdivision will exceed a million gallons per day of water suitable for irrigation.

Water emerging from sewer plants may not be run into San Francisco Bay, under state law, if it is contaminated. Dennis suggested that, since it will not therefore be contaminated, it would be wasteful to dump the water into the bay and that it might well be used for irrigation.

President E. A. Quaresma instructed Secretary Vernon Ellsworth to bring the subject to the attention of the Alameda County Water District.

The secretary also was asked to reply to a communication of inquiry concerning location of a motel near Niles.

IRVINGTON TRACT HOME CONSTRUCTION TO START JUNE 15

Construction of homes in the new 150-home tract between Irvington and Mission San Jose is expected to get underway June 15 by the Wilmont Development Company.

The announcement was made Tuesday by Allan Hirsch, president of the Irvington Chamber of Commerce, at the regular weekly meeting of that group.

Hirsch told the group that in a conversation with company representatives he had been informed that the company had acquired its own road building machinery and would begin the construction of roads throughout the tract in the near future.

The tract was recently approved by the Alameda County Planning Commission as the site for the construction of 150 of what the company termed, "working man's type of homes."

In the meantime 15 new homes are expected to be started by Frank Crossman, Niles contractor, across the highway from the Wilmont site.

Crossman will erect the two and three-bedroom homes on the property owned by W. E. Bailey and Jack Prouty.

LOCAL DANCERS HAVE FINAL PARTY

As a wind-up of the folk-dancing season in the township, there will be a big get-together of folk-dancers this Saturday night at the high school auditorium. Hosts for the affair are the Irvington Promenaders.

All of the township folk-dancing clubs and classes have been invited, as well as the Pleasanton Merry-makers.

With the closing of school, most of the classes in the township will be discontinued. There will, however, be one summer group, meeting once a week, at the high school. This class will include members from all of the other discontinued groups.

DRAINAGE PROBLEM HALTS SUBDIVISION

A request for clearance to open a 316-home tract near Newark was rejected temporarily Wednesday by the Alameda County Planning Commission on the basis of inadequate drainage facilities.

According to the tentative map of the subdivision submitted to the Commission, the Workman Construction Company of Menlo Park will be the developers.

The site of the proposed tract is located to the immediate west of Newark and is bounded by Mayhew's Landing Road, Lincoln and Cherry Roads and Dairy Avenue.

In announcing their failure to accept the present plans, the Commission stated that further action would be pending upon the satisfactory solution of adequate drainage throughout the tract and the disposal of the water from the area.

DECOTO RE-ZONING HEARINGS SLATED

Two public hearings for the consideration of the rezoning of a parcel of land near Decoto have been scheduled by the Alameda County Planning Commission.

The hearings will be held on the proposal to amend the zoning ordinance by reclassifying an acreage, along the Western Pacific right-of-way and Whipple Road, from a single family residence-agricultural district to a heavy industrial district.

The request was filed by the Western Pacific, along with the announcement to the Planning Commission that a large manufacturing concern would be interested in locating a new plant in that area if it could be zoned to permit its location there. The land is adjacent to land which is presently zoned for heavy industry.

The first of the two public hearings will be held at 2:30 p.m., Tuesday, June 20, in the regular meeting room of the Board of Supervisors, Court House, Oakland.

BRIDAL PROMENADE IS HIGHLIGHT OF COUNTRY CLUB MEET

A promenade of wedding gowns modeled last Tuesday by Country Club members was the highlight of the last and final meeting, for the season.

Under the capable direction of Mrs. J. C. Shinn Jr., the bridal fashion parade brought many "Oh's" and "Ah's" from the large crowd that assembled to see what the well-dressed bride of 1874 was wearing as well as what was fashionable for the bride of the present day.

Many of the models wore their own wedding gowns. Others, however, found that their gowns were more becoming on younger and less matronly figures.

Those who modeled included: Mrs. George Coelho, wearing her grandmother's gown, 1874; Mrs. Stebler Loze, Mrs. Henry May's gown, 1892; Mrs. Charles Burch, Mrs. James Fair's gown, 1897; Mary Virginia Bristow, Mrs. W. Walton's gown, 1899; Mrs. Ted Logan, Mrs. Franklin Brown's gown, 1900; Mrs. James Logan, Mrs. Harry Searles' gown, 1900; Mary Lynn Lamoreux, Mrs. J. C.

Kurotori, Esther Muela, Larry Roberts, Beverly Spurlock, Frank Velarde and Rosendo Villegas.

Shinn's (Sr.) gown, 1905; Mrs. Warren Gravestock, Mrs. Dora Mae Scudder's gown, 1906; Mrs. Kenneth Berg, Mrs. Ralph Robinson's gown, 1912; Mrs. E. M. Grimmer Jr., Mrs. Jack Whipple's gown, 1914.

Mrs. Roland Bendel modeled her own gown, 1919; Mrs. E. M. Manning, her own, 1924; Mrs. Frank Katzer, Mrs. J. V. Gould's, 1927; Anna Mae Grimmer, Mrs. Walter Connolly's, 1929; Mrs. Harvey Granger, her own, 1933; Mrs. Dwight Thornburg, her own, 1935; Mrs. Jack MacGregor, her own, 1938; Mrs. Blake Hill, Mrs. Ted Logan's, 1938; Mrs. Allan Hirsch, her own, 1941; Mrs. Karl Nordvik, her own, 1941.

Mrs. George Bonde Jr. had the pleasure of wearing the very latest in the wedding-gown parade. It was her own, which she was married in only last year.

The wedding gown parade was concluded by what the spectators considered just the proper fillip, little Miss Nancy Thornburg appearing in a ballet dance. She and little Mary Anne Gravestock had previously acted as flower-girls for the "brides."

The meeting was presided over by Mrs. A. E. Alameda, the new president. The past presidents of the club were especially honored at the meeting, and presented with corsages.

New members taken into the club were Mrs. Melvin T. Duffey and Miss Harriet Dias, both of Niles.

Thinking Things Over :::

By VIVIAN BATMAN

A Niles family almost reached the stage of divorce last week over a cat!

Now you wouldn't think that a cat could cause so much trouble. "But it wasn't an ordinary cat," said the wife. "It was a tame wild-cat—and not so tame, either!"

"Ah, no, dear," said the husband. "It wasn't a tame wild-cat. It was a wild tame-cat."

It all came about when the family was given a cat, neatly and securely confined in a gunny sack. But their young son let the cat out of the bag—literally.

The husband and wife thought the wild creature had run outside, and promptly forgot about it, as they weren't too anxious to have a cat anyhow.

But along about midnight, when everything was quiet and peaceful, the wife woke up with a start. She nudged her husband. "I hear a cat!" she cried.

"Sure, they're all over the neighborhood," said her husband, and turned over and went back to sleep.

The wife tried to go back to sleep, too, but she couldn't. She kept hearing faint "me-a-o-u's."

She nudged her husband again. "I'm sure I heard a cat," she said. "And it's in this house. I know it! I'll bet it's that cat that got out of the bag!"

The husband listened for a few minutes, as his wife instructed him to do. "I don't hear a thing," he said finally, "you're probably dreaming." He went back to sleep again.

The wife began hearing the "me-o-u's" again. She became frantic. "Maybe it will get to the children and smother them," she thought. "I've heard about cases like that."

The children were safe and well as usual the next morning, however. And there was no sign of a cat.

That night, however, the wife began hearing the cat again.

She woke her husband up. "I hear a cat."

"My gosh!" said her spouse. "Are you going to carry on about cats every night? I looked all over the house for a cat today, didn't I? You've got a—a psychosis, or something. You've been thinking about cats all day, so you begin hearing 'em at night." He concluded angrily, "If there's a cat in this house I'll eat it!"

The talking awakened their little four-year-old daughter. "Mama," she called excitedly, "is daddy going to eat a cat? When? Can I watch him?"

The third night the wife timidly nudged her husband. "I hear it!" she cried. "It's the cat! Sounds like it's under the bed."

The husband turned on the light. He searched under the bed. There was no cat. "Look," he said grimly to his wife. "I could stand most anything in a wife—if you couldn't cook, if you couldn't keep house, if you drank, if you chased around. But darn it, I can't stand a woman who hears cats every night! This is the end!" He started pulling on his clothes.

The answer to this was an unmistakable "Me-a-o-u!"

He glared at his wife. "Did you do that?"

"No," she replied indignantly. "It was the cat!"

So they searched all over the house, once, twice, three times. At last they found the source of all the trouble. He was hiding in a crevice behind the refrigerator.

With the aid of a broom, pans of water, and a baseball bat, they finally got him out.

The situation since then seems to be at a standstill. It is briefly this: the house is a shambles, the wife goes around beaming with a triumphant smile on her face, the husband is still groggy for want of sleep, and the four-year-old daughter sits down to every meal with an expectant look on her face, "Is this the cat Daddy is going to eat?"

All because of a cat—a tame cat gone wild, or a wild cat gone tame. Nobody will ever know for sure.

P. G. & E. REQUESTS GAS RATE BOOST

An application requesting an increase in gas rates for Northern and Central California, effective January 1, was filed Wednesday with the Public Utilities Commission by the Pacific Gas and Electric Company.

In announcing the request for the rate boost the company stated that increased costs, occasioned primarily by the importation of natural gas from Texas and New Mexico, made the increase necessary.

"The growth of population and industry in this area during the war and since has greatly increased the annual consumption of gas. This has resulted in a steady depletion of the gas reserves available to the company in the Rio Vista and Sacramento and San Joaquin Valley fields. In the meantime there have been no new gas discoveries of significance or importance in California," stated W. G. B. Euler, vice-president and general manager of the company.

He announced that a pipeline is under construction from the Texas and New Mexico fields to the bay area. The gas main will terminate at Milpitas, which will become the principal delivery point for the bay region and much of Northern and Central California.

The pipeline will be 34 inches in diameter, the largest diameter pipeline in the world for high-pressure transmission of natural gas.

Company officials stated that the increase in rates will be spread over almost a million customers and will add less than three cents a day to the average household bill.

FARMER OF TODAY HAS NEW PROBLEMS

A strong back is the least necessary part of a farmer's ability in these days of labor-saving farm machinery and available special workers. So replies Farm Advisor Lee Benson of the University of California Agriculture Extension Service when asked by newcomers about farming in this state.

Farming here usually rates as an intensive, specialized, commercialized undertaking. Success requires good management, the application of correct technical knowledge, skill at the jobs involved, industry, and thrift. The farmer is more of a business man than a laborer.

Cash costs in producing crops and livestock prove greater in California than in most states. Local taxes range higher because of the public services available.

To be given full consideration on most farms are irrigation-water costs, the high pest-control and fertilizer requirements of specialty fruit and truck crops, the seasonal need for labor, the high wages of hired help, and the elaborate mechanical equipment involved.

SOFTBALL LEAGUE PENNANT RACES SHOW BIG PROMISE

The Washington Softball Association league play got underway this week and gave promise of a thrilling series of games through the summer schedule.

An impressive opening night ceremony was held Monday evening with the Association officials taking part. Officers this season are: Pete Nunes, president; Matt Whitfield, vice-president; Vernon Rose, secretary; Joe Machado, treasurer; Art Belshaw, board member, and Irving Hird, in charge of the grounds.

The members of the ten teams, playing under the two league banners, paraded before the grandstand behind the high school band at the ceremonies.

An exhibition game between old-time rivals, Central Chevrolet and Kleines, ended in a 5 to 1 victory for the Chevrolet.

In the first round of league play Tuesday evening, Pacific States Steelers nosed out Westvaco in the A League 4 to 3, and Kraftite dumped Fricks 10 to 7 in the B League.

Wednesday evening Ted Garcia pitched the Y.M.I. club to a 7-0 shutout over the Wedgewood Club in the B League and the Kleine aggregation avenged their defeat of Monday by trouncing the Chevrolet 10 to 1. Ernest Vargas was the winning pitcher and Lee Telles was chalked up with the loss.

PACIFIC STEELERS REMAIN UNDEFEATED

The Pacific States Steel softball team, behind the two-hit pitching of Hank Avilla, defeated the Forsters of Livermore last Friday by the score of 6 to 4.

The Passcos collected 9 hits, paced by H. Avilla, who hammered out a home run and a triple.

In the opening game of league play in the Washington Township Softball Association on Tuesday evening, the Passcos defeated Westvaco by a one-point margin, 4 to 3. R. Vallescaz worked on the mound for the Steelers but was relieved in the final inning by H. Avilla.

KRUEGER'S TEAM LEADS SOONER STATE LEAGUE

A local lad carving a niche for himself in professional baseball circles is Bill Krueger, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Krueger of Irvington.

Bill is player-manager of the Ada, Oklahoma, club in the Sooner State League and his club has this week run a string of 13 consecutive victories to hold a 5½ game lead in the league standings.

He plays shortstop on the club and is batting in the high three hundreds.

The name "Mendocino" appeared on a map as early as 1587, designating a California cape.

MACHADO PERFORMS IN ALL-STAR GAME

Washington High's star infielder, Vernon Machado, held down the shortstop berth on the Alameda County All-Star team in Oakland last Saturday and helped his teammates to a 7 to 2 victory over the Oakland Catholic All-Star club in the annual Post-Enquirer Legion All-Star Game.

Machado played the full nine innings, playing flawless ball and getting on base three times in five trips to the plate. Machado got one single and two walks, scoring two of the county all-star runs.

Machado, the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Machado of Alvarado, was a varsity player at Washington High all four years that the school won the S.C.V.A.L. pennant and was selected on the all-star team by a board of coaches of the East Bay.

MUMPS LEADS ALL OTHER DISEASES

The weekly report prepared by Dr. James C. Malcolm, Alameda County health officer, revealed this week that through May 27 no cases of diphtheria had been reported for the rural section of the county and only eight cases of polio have been recorded.

Mumps continued to outdistance all other diseases with 606 cases thus far this year, with chickenpox the runner-up with 307. The number of cases of other diseases, since January 1, were as follows: Tuberculosis, 47; syphilis, 44; streptococcus, 39; gonorrhea, 34; whooping cough, 34; German measles, 26; measles, 25.

Dr. Malcolm's report revealed that two cases of chickenpox, four cases of syphilis and one case of mumps were reported in Washington Township last week.

IRVINGTON HELD SCORELESS SUNDAY

The Irvington Merchants suffered a stinging shut-out defeat last Sunday at the hands of the San Jose Zebras, a semi-pro Japanese team.

The Irvington lads, playing on the San Jose Municipal field, lost 8 to 0 to what they termed the best ball club they have ever played.

Frank Mayer's local club got eight hits but they were kept so scattered that only one man ever reached third base.

The Zebras got 13 hits, and by means of three perfectly executed squeeze plays, were able to score most of their base-runners.

Johnny Garcia started on the mound for the Irvington club but was relieved in the third by Sabe Elizarrey. Sabe allowed but six hits in the remainder of the fray but had control trouble, walking in two runs in the eighth inning. Stanley Roderick led his club in hitting with two doubles in four trips to the plate.

This week-end the Irvington club will play a Saturday and Sunday series against Talmadge on the Mendocino State Hospital diamond.

Clarence Soito of Newark, catcher for the club for many seasons, will manage the team in the absence of Frank Mayer.

In past year's games the two clubs have split their series, each with two victories and two losses. The box score of last Sunday's game:

COUNTY FOOTBALL SAFETY COMMITTEE SUBMITS SURVEY

The High School Football Safety Committee of Alameda County, recently named by District Attorney Frank J. Coakley and County Superintendent of Schools Vaughn D. Seidel, to determine whether adequate safeguards are in effect in schools of this county, submitted their 35-page report this week.

The board, comprised of prominent doctors, attorneys and athletic directors of the bay area, made a careful survey of all phases of football from a players welfare standpoint and made the following recommendations:

A standard physical examination and medical form should be adopted for use throughout the county.

A physician should be in attendance at all high school football games. This fee could be and should be paid by the school district.

The keeping of school health records should be coordinated and all records should be made available to examining physicians.

All participants in high school football should have been immunized against tetanus before being allowed to play.

Certain minimum requirements as to the amount and type of playing equipment should be made mandatory for all high schools.

A safety area of at least fifteen feet outside all out-of-bounds lines and end zone lines should be maintained on all playing fields.

Conditioning exercises are recommended for use by players during spring training, if held, summer vacation and the regular football season.

Players on the bench should be encouraged by the coach to keep themselves warmed up during the progress of the game.

Strict adherence should be had by all schools to the requirement that a three minute warmup period be given before the beginning of the second half of any game. The enforcement of this rule should be the responsibility of the coach and the officials at the game.

Players should be supplied with jackets and blankets for use while sitting on the bench during a game and it should be the duty of the coach to see that the players protect themselves in this fashion.

Coaches should make reports to boards of education of all injuries occurring to players in practices or

SPRING FOOTBALL DRILLS CONCLUDED THIS WEEK

The spring football drill at Washington Union High School will close with a scrimmage Friday after a three weeks' workout of young hopefuls for next season's varsity squad.

Coach Jud Taylor, after looking over his squad of some 60 aspirants, summed up his prospects for next season with one word, "Fair."

Next year's team will be greatly hampered by an all green line of newcomers but will benefit in the backfield by the return of several veterans.

Games. These records should be made available to the County Superintendent of School's office upon demand.

Officials as well as coaches should have the responsibility of observing the players to detect an injured player or one in such a weakened condition that he is in danger of becoming injured. If an official reports to a coach that a player should be withdrawn from the game for this reason, the coach should be under an obligation to take the player out of the game.

Officials should enforce strictly rules against unnecessary roughness. Flagrant or repeated instances of deliberate violations on the part of a team should be reported immediately to league officials.

Playing fields should be turf. No animal fertilizer should be used on turf fields.

There should be four officials for all high school football games and no official should be assigned to more than one game per day.

Officials and coaches should examine football equipment used by the players prior to each game.

An emergency committee should be appointed to have the responsibility for setting up adequate first aid facilities at each playing field and to handle the first aid to be rendered any severely injured player.

Drying room facilities should be maintained at all schools to properly dry equipment between practices.

Junior varsity competition should be limited to players under the twelfth grade.

No player who has been rendered unconscious or received a blow which has seriously dazed him thus indicating a possible brain concussion should be allowed to participate in any physical activity for at least a period of ten days and then only upon written permission from the examining physician.

SISTER, COACH GET SOUVENIR

Vernon Machado, Washington Union High School baseball star who played in the Alameda County All-Star game in Oakland on Saturday, among other feats performed during the game, hit two foul balls.

When a baseball player hits two foul balls in one game it ordinarily does not rate as a news item, however, there was an odd twist to the two blows that Vernon hit into the stands.

The first high foul cleared the protective screen behind the dugout and was caught by Coach Irving Hird, who coached Machado during the four years that he played for Washington High.

The second foul ball soared out the left field line into the bleachers and struck the knee of Machado's sister, Mrs. Erma Diaz of Irvington.

LIVERMORE RODEO SATURDAY-SUNDAY

The Livermore Rodeo, a show that started back in 1918 as a Red Cross benefit and has grown into one of the most important and widely acclaimed western shows in the nation, will be held Saturday and Sunday, June 10 and 11.

An estimated 50,000 persons are expected to jam the streets of Livermore for the centennial parade on Saturday morning at 10 o'clock for the official opening of the rodeo.

The grand entry preceding the Saturday show will march by the grandstands at 1:30 p.m. and a half hour later the 25 chutes will start spilling men and beast into the arena at the one-a-minute clip which has given the show the undisputed title of "The World's Fastest Rodeo."

The Sunday show will get underway at 8 a.m. with the roping and bulldogging preliminaries.

At 12:30 the cowboy parade will be staged through town to the rodeo grounds and the finals of the championship events will begin at 2 p.m.

A carnival and free dance will provide evening entertainment on both Saturday and Sunday.

TORREY PINES

Many San Diegans spend a pleasurable afternoon on the bluffs high above the Pacific at Torrey Pines Park where they watch sailplanes and gliders that take off from the Gliderport and ride the air currents that rise from the bluffs.

Fun on the Farm

By NICHOLS FIELD WILSON

Entertainment for young and old. The most popular and most visited farm in California, Knott's Berry Farm with its historical glimpse of Southern California and mecca of California children... and their parents. Granddads, too! 22 miles from Los Angeles, a ten-acre berry patch with a small roadside stand was the start 30 years ago of what today resembles a beautiful park with great trees, acres of gorgeous flowers and plants with easy, comfortable benches to rest after viewing the attractions.

Here on the farm children enjoy the wide open places, ride about in covered wagons, watch the herd of buffalo grazing, climb on the backs of the horses, and explore the activities of the old West as it appeared a hundred years ago.

The Covered Wagon Show tells a true tale of the trip to California by covered wagons in 1849, and visitors enjoy every one of the four minutes seeing the picture, and listening to the tale of the story of the trip. That was the start of "Ghost Town," the frame for the "picture" being an old hotel moved down from one of the early mining camps. Then in Ghost Town you will be intrigued by the story of the Wells-Fargo express of early days, and old-time Post Office, Blacksmith Shop, Barber Shop, Backwoods Dick's Grave, Goldies Joint, print shop, Picher Gallery, Antique Shop, General Merchandise Store and scores of buildings and historical sights of interest and aid in the education of old and young.

The Little Chapel by the Lake, houses the justly famous oil painting, "The Transfiguration," a beautiful description of Christ by Artists Paul von Klee. It is permanently enshrined in the old Adobe Chapel. Donations to our better charities, resulting in many thousands of dollars annually speak eloquently of this masterpiece.

All during the summer there is entertainment and square dancing for the grownups. About 8 o'clock, when dinner is over, the Wagon Camp comes to life and a beautiful sight it is under the stars and especially on moonlight nights while the show goes on with seats for about a thousand persons besides "Reserved Seats" in the covered wagons for early arrivals. Whether seated in a wagon or on one of the benches you will enjoy the huge fire at the bottom of the pit.

Realizing the old historical towns of the Gold Rush Days were fast crumbling to dust, Walter Knott set out to create an atmosphere of those famous days of '49 and today you may relive some of the heroics, pranks and deeds of violence that were part of the life of our forefathers. In its present three buildings is the result of careful planning and planning by Knott and his artist, in charge, Paul von Klee.

Every building has a story and every story could be true. This magnificent tribute to the pioneers of the West brings thousands from far and near to see and enjoy or to reminisce. The Mother Lode country of California, the gold mining towns of Nevada and Arizona are the principal sources of the historical and buildings of Ghost Town.

As you slowly wind your way through the crooked streets, and over the worn boardwalks, held down by polished square nails, you seem to become transplanted into the good old days of grandfather's time.

Native Californians Knott's Berry Farm is owned by one of California's truly California families. Native Son, Walter Knott and wife, Cordelia Knott, went to high school in Pomona, married there in 1910. Their first adventure in growing vegetables was when the newlyweds homesteaded a piece of land in the Mojave Desert. There they desperately tried to make the sandy soil produce them a living, but they failed for the lack of water. As Mrs. Knott says, "All we raised out there was a fine bunch of children." First came Virginia, then Russell, then Toni and Marion. From the desert we see this young family move their meager belongings to a vegetable farm in Central California. Walter Knott grew the vegetables on shares, and in a few years had saved up enough to move to Orange County, rent 10 acres of land, and plant them to berries.

Developed Boysenberry He developed the Boysenberry and introduced it to the world. The success of this adventure was the start of the Knott success and after that came the fame of Mrs. Knott's chicken dinner and Mrs. Knott's pie-dinner that have been eaten and enjoyed by more than nine million people from all parts of the world.

The children, all true Californians, have been part and parcel of the business from the time they were youngsters. All four children are active in the work of the day and with Mother and Dad sole owners of this old-established farm.

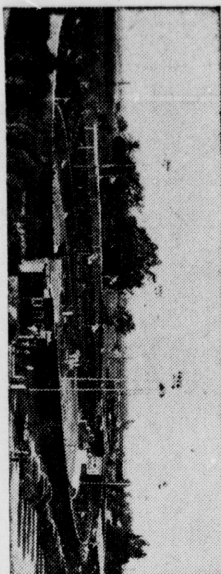

Virginia's Gift Shop now in the new beautiful building, displays a collection of gift items. Russell Knott manages the Berry Market where fresh berries are sold (in season), fruit, fresh rhubarb, asparagus, etc.

The two youngest children, Toni and Marion, maintain their constantly growing Dress Shop, Ken Oliphant, (Toni's husband) with his staff is responsible for the continued great demand which the visiting friends of the farm are showing for the Knott jams and jellies.

Under the management of Dwight Anderson, Marion's husband, was created in a atmosphere of the days of '49, his Indian Room is dedicated to the memory of famous Western Indian Chiefs. Other shops include, Fred's Leather Shop, Glass Blowers, Art-Glow Studio, The Antique Shop, The Rock and Book Shop, The Bottle Shop, General Merchandise Store and Woodcraft Shop.

The Horse Show, late outstanding attraction, is the Mark Smith Show for whom Knott's Berry Farm constructed stables and the horse arena. Mark became best known during his 14 years when he trained horses for the Kellogg Arabian Horse Ranch near Pomona. The Horse Arena provides seating accommodations for 3000 people and currently shows are given at 3 p.m. lasting about 45 minutes. Sometimes shows are given at night under the electric lights and parties can arrange for dates. Often on Sunday the grounds bring delight to small fry.

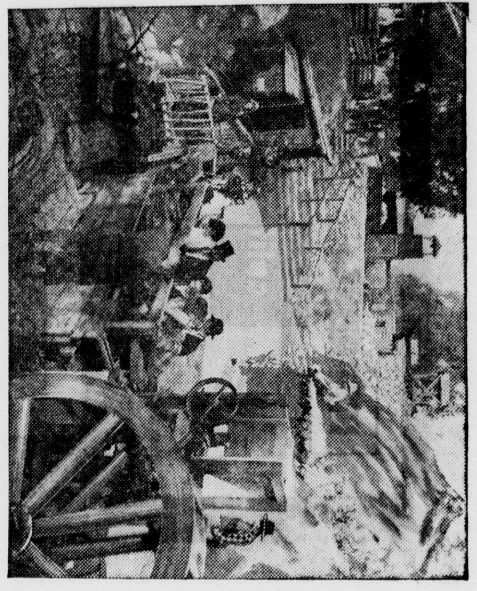

Walter Knott says, "It is due to teamwork by the entire family, our loyal employees and the co-operation of our many friendly customers."

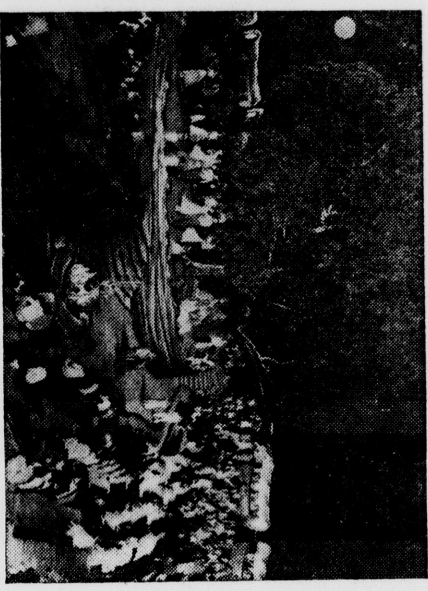

NEWEST ATTRACTION—the horse arena. Regular shows are staged featuring prize horses.

What People Will Do:

Capt. Allan Hancock will prove that there is more food in the ocean than there could ever possibly be on land through the use of his new biographical radio system. Captain Hancock has discovered a new homeless fish that is so plentiful the supply would last for 1000 years. Norman Chandler will form a television network of 72 news-papers owned stations, and will crowd the three big networks for public attention by cutting advertising costs. You will be able to fly from coast-to-coast for $50 on the non-scheduled planes after Jan. 1... The next target for the Anti-Monopoly group in Washington will be Western Union... This will appear in a motion picture of his life for propaganda purposes... Watch for a shocking announcement from Gen. Douglas MacArthur in Japan... Stiffer jail sentences and fines will be meted out to all offenders of the pension and social security benefits. Another Berlin crisis will take place over July 4... Franco will receive his requested loan from the United States and will be admitted into full membership of the United Nations by July 15. Spain will be hailed as the "outbreak against Communism" and will be the next step in the "Cold War"... Although many Futurist Directors adhere to a complete ban on "800" the average cost is $850, so look for a toned down advertising.

Palm Springs Tramway

A dream of desert folk to create an Eighth Wonder of the World, a spidery link between the snows of the high valleys of Mt. San Jacinto and the sunny floor of the Palm Springs desert, may some day soon crystallize in reality. Sale of bonds for the $10,000,000 project will see the start of construction which will take two years. Pictures here give some idea of the size of the huge task.

The lift would be 5875 feet to the 8515-foot level in a 2-phase operation. This is an artist's conception of the lower station.

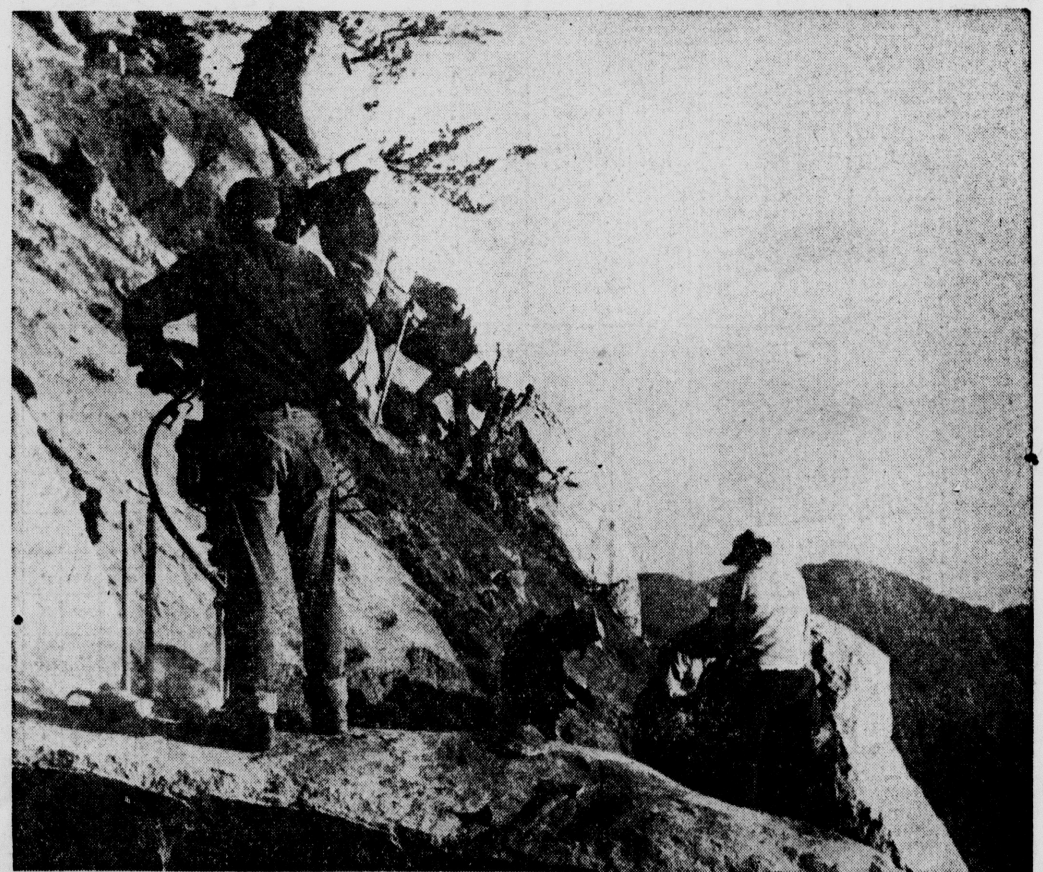

Soaring up the mountain from Chino Canyon—about 4 1/2 miles from Palm Springs—to the eastern escarpment of Long Valley, the tramway would have a total length of 13,151 feet. Cars would make 16-minute round trip runs.

From snowy lookout points like this, visitors to Mt. San Jacinto via the tramway could look down upon the sunny valley floor and Palm Springs far below, a truly breath-taking view.

The upper terminal of the tramway would look like this, its dining room levels looking out on scenic panoramas of great beauty. The tramway would be a major tourist attraction.

Workmen here make preliminary surveys for the huge tramway. The project is under public agency, the Mt. San Jacinto Winter Park Authority established in 1945 by State Legislature.
